Ray McLean passed away on August 13th, 2017. On that day, rivers continued to flow and mountains still stood. Yet, the rivers in our hearts stopped and the mountains in our souls crumbled. We, Ray’s family and friends, love him deeply and mourn his loss to us.

Ray was a great man of principle and pride. He was intelligent and confident, always able to bring out the best from his family, friends, teammates, and co-workers - and sometimes get them into trouble.

He was often quiet, taking in the world around him. He wanted to carry the weight of everyone, on his broad shoulders, because he loved everyone and cared.

He laughed heartily, drank too much - always with a glass half full, and gave everything he could until he could no more.

He is survived by three beautiful children: Morgan, Cole and Berkeley, the births of whom are the three instances he cried in his adult life.

On August 21, 2017 - Ray was cremated. The same day of the solar eclipse. Perhaps it was his pie face that passed the sun for a moment, to remind us to continue in strength.

A funeral service was held August 19, 2017 at the Bergeron Funeral Chapel, Dawson Creek, British Columbia.

Expressions of sympathy in memory of Ray may be made by donation to the charity of your choice.
