

On behalf of the Phil Petrin family,
I would like to extend our deepest gratitude to those mentioned below for their help regarding the death of our brother Marshall Scott Sayers on May 13, 2005.

For their recovery efforts: The Inuvik Fire Department, Fisheries and Oceans, Canadian Helicopters, Department of Renewable Resources and Economic Development, Inuvik RCMP and many other people who supplied boats, poles and other equipment.

First Air for providing return transportation of family members from Edmonton to Inuvik. Vince Sharpe for transportation in Inuvik and a family dinner. Dolly Sydney for organizing the feast at Ingamo Hall. Chaplin David Parsons for providing comfort, support and a beautiful service at the Igloo Church. Vern and Frank Hansen for their gift of music. The Ross and Sayers families for allowing us to grieve with them as one family. Reverend Malcolm Palmer of the Anglican Church in Aklavik for a fitting service. The Aklavik Sing-Along Group for their special Inuvialuktun song. The community of Aklavik for the feast at the Sittichinli Recreation Complex. To Barry Greenland for providing Marshall with a safe, comfortable, loving home in the most recent years of his life and finding ways to help us with much-needed closure. We apologize for missing anyone.

We loved Marshall with all of our hearts; he will never be forgotten. "Say not in grief 'he is no more', but live in thankfulness that he was."

Sincerely,

Pam Petrin (sister of Marshall Scott Sayers)
